

INTERNAL MEDICINE OPPORTUNITY

The Maddock Center for Radiation Oncology is an ACR accredited radiation oncology treatment facility in Warwick, Rhode Island. Our focus is first and foremost on patient care. As part of that commitment, we have had an internist on staff for the past eight years. In addition to meeting with patients during the initial consultation with the senior radiation oncologist, the internist attends to patients on a daily basis. He/she also assists the Radiation Oncologists with pain management, wound care, nutrition plans, and general medical concerns. Continuity of patient care is a particular aspect of the job that our internists have enjoyed.

Our two previous internists were parents of young children who wanted to take time off from an intensive career track, have more family time during the preschool years and yet practice real medicine. We are looking for someone who enjoys working with a close-knit team of professionals in an environment that is supportive and understanding of family life. The position does not require on-call, nightwork, or weekends.

The salary is competitive. We offer family medical, dental, paid CMEs, paid professional dues, malpractice insurance etc.

If you are interested in learning more about the position, please contact Lucy Maddock at 732-2300 or via lucymaddock@maddockcenter.com.
