

Practice into your 70's because you want to NOT BECAUSE YOU HAVE TO.

At Baystate Financial we think you're the one who should decide how long you work. And that means having a financial plan in place that supports your timing and allows you to enjoy retirement on your terms.

No matter where you are in your medical career, chances are you're so focused on your patients and running your practice, that there's no time left for planning your financial future.

That's where we come in.

Baystate Financial has years of experience developing personalized financial strategies for physicians including:

- Retirement planning and investments
- Education funding
- Life, disability and long-term care insurance

There's no better feeling than knowing you have a solid plan in place that will take you right into retirement. And there's no one you can trust more to create that plan than a Baystate Financial advisor.

Baystate Financial and the Rhode Island Medical Society look to offer good financial advice and quality, fee-based financial planning to all Rhode Island physicians.
