We are read everywhere

RIMJ reaches a worldwide audience. In 2017, readers viewed approximately 40,000 pages of the Journal from 92 countries; the largest number of readers were from:

1. US
2. UK
3. Canada
4. Australia
5. India
6. Germany
7. Spain
8. Italy
9. Brazil
10. China

Wherever you may be, or wherever your travels take you, be sure to check the journal on your mobile device, and send us a photo: mkorr@rimed.org.

AUSTIN, TEXAS

Keith D. Carter, MD, President, American Academy of Ophthalmology (AAO); President, Board of Trustees, Association of University Professors of Ophthalmology (AUPO); and Lillian C. O’Brien and Dr. C.S. O’Brien Chair in Ophthalmology and Chairman and Head, Department of Ophthalmology, University of Iowa Carver College of Medicine; takes a moment from his busy schedule to view the RI Medical Journal while attending the AUPO Annual meeting in Austin, Texas.

With 360,000 square feet of space, Texas’ pink granite Capitol is, fittingly, the largest state capitol building in the nation. Reaching a height of 302 feet, it exceeds that of the US Capitol by 13 feet.